

Create something meaningful at the bridal shower

We know how important it is to make every moment memorable. That's why we created Petal Wishes bouquets. Now, every detail for the bride's big day can be special – down to her rehearsal bouquet.

Have fun! There is no wrong wish to write. This is a one-of-a-kind bouquet for a very special person....the bride!

Just like you, we hope the bride and groom have a wonderful day and a beautiful life together. Thank you for making us part of the festivities!

To place a wished petal

- Simply lift the silver flower center
- Snap your wished petal in the available spot on the flower
- Five petals for each flower
- Replace silver flower center

Tips to make the bouquet extra special

- Tie ribbons on the bouquet handle in the bride's wedding colors
- Tie a family heirloom or handkerchief to the bouquet handle
- Pins and charms look really beautiful placed on the handle
- Try different color pens. We recommend selecting permanent or archival type markers if you'd like to write the wishes in a custom color
- Consider placing a sentimental gift to the bride, like a necklace or a pin, on the bouquet handle
- You're not just limited to wishes! You can also write advice, funny notes or sassy thoughts

Present the beautiful bouquet of wishes to the bride

- Give the bride her bouquet to use at her wedding ceremony rehearsal
- It's fun to have the bride or hostess read wishes from the bouquet to the guests
- You can make a game of reading the wishes and guessing who wrote them

- If you would prefer to snap the petals into place yourself – rather than letting guests do it individually – collect the handwritten petals in a basket placed near the bouquet
- If you don't have 40 handwritten petals from guests, you can write the lyrics to the couple's favorite song, write the dates of their wedding or engagement, or include quotes that are important to the couple
- Display the bouquet at the rehearsal dinner, in the bridal suite, and then at home in a clear vase
